JOHNNY WONDER

Q. WHY DO ONIONS MAKE OUR EYES WATER?

CAROLYN RYAN, OF MOUNTAINIDE, N.J., WINS A PRIZE FOR THIS QUESTION.

Everyone knows how onions can make us cry without our feeling sad at all. Onions contain a strong oil that readily forms a vapor (gas). The vapor escapes into the air when the onion is cut or peeled. The oil gives the onion its sharp taste and odor, and also irritates sensitive nerves in the eyes and nose. The eyes react by producing tears to wash away the irritating vapor the onion gives off. The same thing happens when smoke gets into our eyes. We "cry" automatically to protect and cleanse our eyes. Cooking onions removes most of their strong odor. You can use a whole onion as a "tear" absorber in the kitchen. Just cut it in half and place it near the stove. The onion will absorb the smoke and odor. P.O. Box 128, (DA) Santa Cruz, CA 95062.
